Alexis Crane serves as Business Development Manager for Thomas Title's Energy Services group in Houston where she specializes in facilitating renewable energy transactions and building strategic relationships throughout the United States. Prior to joining Thomas Title, she managed and closed utility-scale energy projects valued in excess of one billion dollars while with the energy group of a major national title insurance underwriter. Ms. Crane spent over 15 years as a legal assistant and paralegal concentrating on real estate and oil and gas before entering the commercial title insurance industry. Ms. Crane's legal experience, energy acumen and personable style positions her to be a valuable asset to any current and prospective client.

In her spare time Ms. Crane enjoys deep-sea fishing, skiing and cooking for family and friends.
